BizEventz works as a team with our sponsors to develop and shape local B2B events so that everyone is a winner! Event Sponsorship campaigns help your company stand out from your competitors, generate more qualified leads and have quality, prime exposure with true decision makers who need your products/services.

BizEventz, Inc. is a division of The Central New York Business Journal, responsible for turn-key events. With the support of the Business Journal, we create, plan, and market conferences, seminars, power breakfasts, special events, and more!

We do this for our own events as well as outsource event planning services and event management. Providing you a professional approach, creative strategies and solutions, while taking all the work off of your plate! We deliver from beginning to end. Contact us today!
